ARTsmart is a volunteer organization that believes the visual arts are critical to a child's development. Through charitable donations and events, ARTsmart funds art programs for Santa Fe schoolchildren. Our annual fundraiser, ARTfeast, is a community project that also promotes economic development. ARTsmart is a 501 c3 nonprofit corporation that works with the Santa Fe Gallery Association.

ARTsmart presents the 13th Annual

ARTfeastTM Santa Fe

February 26-28, 2010

A weekend of fine ART, FOOD, WINE, FASHION & HOMES benefiting ART programs for Santa Fe's youth

A Great Time for a Creative Cause

Organized by the charitable organization ARTsmart, ARTfeast Santa Fe raises funds to support the visual arts in the Santa Fe Public Schools. In addition to cash contributions for art materials, ARTsmart funds scholarships and fosters art projects such as the elementary school "I Made It!" ceramic plate design competition, winners of which are pictured throughout. To date, ARTsmart has donated just under $750,000.

VIP Donors of $1,000 or more are invited to a kickoff Thank You Party, underwritten by Western Art & Architecture, with wine and complimentary hors d'oeuvres by Adobo Catering at Zane Bennett Contemporary. Contact Diane Deane at 505.603.4643 for details.

Honorary Artist ARTsmart is proud to recognize abstract expressionist painter Sam Scott. Inspired by nature, Scott espouses a belief in "Brave Beauty," or an attitude of constant searching coupled with complete humility and total open receptiveness. Put more simply, Scott thrives on curiosity, wonder, and awe, which he captures in oils and watercolors.

TICKETS at artfeast.com
505.603.4643, info@artfeast.com, and at the ARTsmart office, 102 E. Water Street, El Centro Mall.

Edible Art Tour tickets are also available at participating galleries and through Tickets Santa Fe, Lencic Box Office, 505.988.1234, ticketssantafe.com.

Santa Fe: February 26-28, 2010
tickets at artfeast.com

FRIDAY Fashion Show & Luncheon

Underwritten by Collector's Guide
11:30 AM, Inn & Spa at Loretto
$100, tables for ten $900, limited seating

Style for all Seasons Color, texture, versatility, and originality are the passwords for this artful runway presentation of seasonal attire. While savoring lunch with the perfect wine, you'll be inspired by four of Santa Fe's established boutiques and clothiers: Alpine Sports, Handwoven Originals, Lily of the West, and Sense Clothing.

Auction The live auction includes jewelry, a travel-spa package, fashions, and an "I Made It!" Plate Set exploring the horn, shell, and bone abstractions of Georgia O'Keeffe. Stained-glass jewelry by Capital High School students is auctioned by silent bid.

Chef Brian Cooper of Luminaria Restaurant and The Living Room specializes in contemporary American cuisine accented by bold southwestern influences.

FRIDAY Edible Art Tour (EAT)

Underwritten by Santa Fean Magazine
5-8 PM, Railyard, Downtown & Canyon Road, $35
See map & gallery-restaurant pairings on reverse.

Gaze and Graze You won't leave hungry after visiting 43 galleries in Santa Fe's three art districts: Downtown, Canyon Road, and for the first time, the newly developed Railyard. Great art, imaginative themes, and fabulous fare are on the menu.

Chefs More than 40 local restaurants and caterers tempt you with their specialty delectables and desserts.

Transportation Enjoy the stroll, or hop shuttle buses that run throughout the districts from 5-9 PM. If you are coming from Albuquerque or further south, take the Rail Runner into the Railyard Depot and graze on from there!

FRIDAY Feast or Famine

Underwritten by Inside Santa Fe
8 PM, Coyote Cafe
$10 or free admission with EAT button

Bop till You Drop After EAT closes its doors, the party moves to the Coyote Cafe. This over-21 mixer purveys Hiphop, House, and Old Skool music by DJs Ché, Dynamite Sol, Joe Ray Sandoval, and King George, who plan to jam-pack the dance floor. Complimentary munchies keep you fueled. Quench your thirst with beer and energy drinks from Premier Distributing, and a cash bar.

Chef Eric DiStefano creates hors d'oeuvres from his signature Coyote menu.

Transportation Shuttles take guests to the "last-call" Rail Runner train leaving the Depot at 11:30 PM. For additional information about Rail Runner schedules call 866.795.RAIL (7245) or go to nmrailrunner.com/schedule.asp

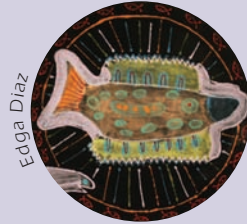

SAT/SUN Art of Home Tour

Underwritten by Santa Fe Properties
12-4 PM
free admission

Dream Dwellings The homes you've built in your imagination are available for viewing on two afternoons. Santa Fe Properties selects eight outstanding Las Campanas residences to expand your horizons. Enjoy high tea each of the days.

Galleries Each home is staged with artworks chosen by select Santa Fe galleries, including Artistas de Santa Fe Gallery, Gallery Chartreuse, Gallery at 822 Canyon Road, Heidi Loewen Porcelain Gallery, Karan Ruhlen Gallery, LaKind Fine Art, Ronnie Layden Fine Art, and Victoria Price Art and Design. One home has art by SFPS art teachers.

Transportation & Maps You'll need a vehicle to enjoy this self-guided tour. Maps are available at all Santa Fe Properties locations, at ARTfeast events, and at santafeproperties.com and artfeast.com.

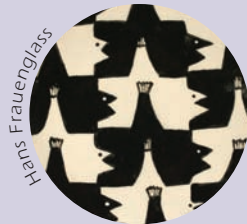

SATURDAY Gourmet Dinner & Auction Honoring Sam Scott

Underwritten by Southwest Art, Los Alamos National Bank, and Mary & Robert Harbour
6 PM, La Posada de Santa Fe Resort & Spa
$175, tables for ten $1,500, limited seating

Honorary Artist Sam Scott will be in attendance to talk about the artworks done by the Capital High School students he mentored.

Auction An original painting by Scott and an "I Made It!" Plate Set on the theme of Central American molas are auctioned live. Paintings by Scott's students and 50 "I Made It!" winning plates are auctioned by silent-bid.

Chef Mary Nearn of Fuego at La Posada de Santa Fe coordinates the efforts of six celebrated chefs: Robert Chickering & Seamus Collins of Galisteo Bistro, Patrick Gharrity of La Casa Sena, Tom Kerpon of Rio Chama Steakhouse, Kim Muller of Real Food Nation, and David Sellers of Amavi. Amy Cox & Andree Falls of Sage Bakehouse contribute aromatic breads. Exceptional aperitifs and wines selected by sommelier Kate Collins, Global Wine & Spirits of New Mexico, bring out the best of each course.

SUNDAY Artists' Champagne Brunch & Auction

Underwritten by The Essential Guide
11:30 AM, Hotel Santa Fe
$75, tables of ten $750, limited seating

Meet, Mingle, Manifest Sip champagne or mimosas while meeting artists and gallerists over an enticing blend of American and Native American cuisine. Myriad auction items provide a kaleidoscope of options for creating an artful life!

Participating Artists/Galleries Margarete Bagshaw/Golden Dawn Gallery. Heather Foster/Peterson-Cody Gallery. Arlene LaDell Hayes/Joe Wade Fine Art. Andrée Hudson/Waxlander Gallery. Michelle Tapia/Packards on the Plaza. Rebecca Tobey/Ventana Fine Art. Poteet Victory/McLary Modern & McLary Fine Art. Mark White/Mark White Fine Art. Kim Douglas Wiggins/Manitou Galleries.

Auction The live auction includes artworks by the participating artists, travel and spa packages, and an "I Made It!" Plate Set inspired by the tessellation technique of Dutch artist M.C. Escher. A silent auction of paintings, sculptures, cooking classes, dining, jewelry, and metal sculptures designed by Santa Fe High School students keeps your bid number prominent.

Chefs Patrick Kline and Walter Dominguez of Amaya Restaurant create innovative fusions of global foods using simple but elegant gourmet touches.
